

Welcome Home, Manufacturers!

I-39's Manufacturing Resources Checklist

I-39 Logistics Corridor is a micropolis of communities within a 10,000-square-mile stretch of land due west of Chicago in the heart of the Midwest.

Skilled & Experienced Labor

More I-39 workers are employed in manufacturing than in any other industry providing experienced, skilled, stable, competitively priced and immediately productive employees with an ingrained work ethic.

Airports & Air Cargo

I-39 has seven airports including the Chicago Rockford International Airport, the 18th largest U.S. air cargo airport and home to UPS' sorting hub.

Educated Workforce

More than 75 universities, community colleges, and technical schools prepare and cross-train workers for jobs in high-tech manufacturing.

Distribution Services

The corridor has over a hundred trucking, storage and other transportation-service companies and several driver training centers.

Supply-Chain Support

Recognized for its supply-chain readiness, I-39 is home to thousands of specialty component-parts manufacturers and technical-services firms.

Warehouse Facilities

There is an abundance of warehouses on stand-alone sites and in state-of-the-art logistics parks.

Diverse Industries

I-39 supports many industries – transportation vehicles and equipment, agriculture and food processing, metals, chemicals, industrial machinery, etc.-- and attracts diverse companies such as Chrysler, Del Monte, 3M, Mitsubishi, ConAgra, Kraft Foods, and Nippon Sharyo.

Available Land

Throughout I-39 is a multitude of reasonably priced land and building sites, many of which are improved and shovel-ready.

Interstate Highways

Six interstate highways intersect congestion-free and toll-free I-39 providing immediate access to all north/south and east/west destinations.

Energy

I-39 produces an abundance of energy using hydroelectricity, natural gas, and nuclear in addition to the alternative, renewable energy of solar, geothermal, biofuels, and wind.

Railroads & Intermodal

Six major rail lines traverse I-39 including the main lines of UP and BNSF. UP's Global Intermodal Facility processes arriving trucks in less than a minute.

Incentives & Services

Tell us what you need to make your move to I-39, and we will assemble a highly competitive manufacturing package, designed specifically for your project.

Check us out. You'll feel right at home.
